*Let me take you down,
'cause I'm going to...*

Strawberry Field

Previously a Salvation Army children's home where John Lennon found solace playing in the gardens as a child, Strawberry Field is now a visitor centre complete with exhibition, garden, café and gift shop.

Explore John Lennon's childhood places using Strawberry Field as a base. You are welcome to park in our free car park and use our amenities. Why not begin your tour in our visitor exhibition and learn the history of Strawberry Field and why John Lennon found it so inspiring.

Today, Strawberry Field exists as a place of sanctuary for visitors and provides support to young adults who are experiencing barriers to employment with our 'Steps at Strawberry Field' programmes. Donate to support our work.

The Walking Tour

Starting at Strawberry Field, our walking tour visits places from John's childhood in Woolton and where it all began for The Beatles. It is an approximate 5km loop and should take around 90 minutes. Please be mindful that there are some hills and pavements may be narrow in some places.
